About the co-hosts

COMBAR:

The Commercial Bar Association was formed in July 1989 as a collection of self-employed barristers who practise in the field of international and commercial law. Stephen Moriarty QC is the current Chairman.

For more information please see www.combar.com

YIAG (Young International Arbitration Group):

Established in 1997, the Young International Arbitration Group (YIAG) is an LCIA sponsored association for students, practitioners and younger members of the arbitration community.

YIAG aims to promote the understanding and use of international arbitration law and practice by providing opportunities for its members to exchange views on topical issues in international commercial arbitration.

Members of YIAG meet and network regularly in venues around the world at conferences, training seminars and social events.

YIAG publishes regular e-newsletters, to which all members are encouraged to submit contributions.

Currently, there are over 3100 members from more than 110 countries, and membership continues to rise steadily.

Membership of YIAG is free of charge and for further information please visit www.lcia.org
