

Jeffrey Benz

Call: 1994

+442078222000 j.benz@4newsquare.com

Clerk: Dennis Peck

d.peck@4newsquare.com

+442078222040 +447912405149

Jeffrey Benz joined chambers as a door tenant in 2013 and has a worldwide practice based in London and Los Angeles. Jeff is a member of the California, Colorado, Hawaii, and New York bars, and the bars of numerous United States federal district and appellate courts.

Jeff's UK, and European, practice is devoted primarily to acting as mediator and arbitrator. Jeff has strong backgrounds in the law governing disputes and transactions in entertainment, sports, technology, and insurance.

Jeff has been recently been appointed to the IAAF's Inaugural Disciplinary Tribunal and is also a CEDR-accredited mediator and a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators. His work as an intermediary or counsel has taken him around the world, throughout the United States, and to Australia, China, Hong Kong, Japan, Switzerland, and, of course, the United Kingdom.

A former Coudert Brothers lawyer, and previously serving as general counsel of the United States Olympic Committee, and COO or general counsel of multiple sports organizations, technology, and entertainment companies, and publicly-traded companies, In the United States, Jeff now serves as counsel and neutral in his own law and alternative dispute resolution firm, and he is a member of the California-based Agency for Dispute Resolution (www.agencydr.com) panel of neutrals, as well as the American Arbitration Association Commercial, Real Estate, Transportation, Large Complex Case, Consumer, Sports, and Entertainment panels. He undertakes a broad range of advisory, advocacy, and neutral work. He has appeared before most levels of trial and appellate courts in the United States, and before a variety of administrative and regulatory tribunals and boards. Jeff has also served as counsel in a wide variety of commercial arbitrations and mediations, including before the AAA, JAMS, and the ICC. In sum, Jeff has a well-rounded background, having been the lawyer, the client, and the judge. Jeff is also an accomplished corporate governance specialist, internal investigator, and advisor to Boards of Directors and CEOs. As a former General Counsel of the United States Olympic Committee, and former athlete, his sports credentials are without compare—he has acted as a neutral or counsel in a wide variety of sports, including, among others, hockey, gymnastics, speedskating, figure skating, football and soccer, rugby, track and field, equestrian, table tennis, triathlon, wrestling, tennis, taekwondo, boxing, cycling, sailing, and complex disputes and transactions involving sponsorships, licensing, and live events.

He has extensive practical experience and training (as both counsel and neutral) in arbitration, mediation and other forms of non-court dispute resolution. He is a member of several panels of arbitrators and mediators in the United States, China, Hong Kong, Taiwan, Switzerland, the U.K and internationally, including the American Arbitration Association (AAA), Hong Kong International Arbitration Commission (HKIAC), Beijing Arbitration Commission, ICC-USCIB, London Court of International Arbitration (LCIA), China International Economic and Trade Arbitration Commission (CIETAC), and Court of Arbitration for Sport (CAS). Jeff was a member of the ad hoc division of the CAS for the 2014 Asian Beach Games in Phuket and is a member of the Rugby Football Union Disciplinary Tribunal.

Jeff is an active member of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators, the American Bar Association, the Swiss Arbitration Association, the National Sports Law institute, RexSport, and the Sports Lawyers Association (where he is a long-time member of the Board and serves as International Committee Chair).

NEW SQUARE

Jeff is an adjunct professor at the law schools at Los Angeles-based Pepperdine University and Madrid-based ISDE, and he contributes regularly to the literature on dispute resolution and sports law. In 2013, Jeff was named as one of 317 worldwide professional in the Who's Who of Entertainment and Sports Law, where he is one of the few neutrals so recognized in the field.

Jeff will be speaking on 'The Athlete in the midst of everything: tensions with federations, sponsors, family members, media, lawyers and the public' at the Swiss Association for Sports Law Sports Law Days on Thursday 6th November 2014 at the Swiss Olympic House House, Macolin.

Click here to listen to the interview of Jeff on Law and Sport.

Privacy Policy

Click here for a Privacy Policy for Jeff Benz.

Qualifications & Memberships

Jeff has undergraduate and MBA degrees from the University of Michigan and he graduated with his law degree from the University of Texas School of Law in 1993 (Jeff also attended a semester at the Queen Mary University of London and the Institute of Advanced Legal Studies during law school). Jeff started his professional career as an intern in Lloyd's Claims Office in London.

Insights

The New NCAA Independent Accountability Resolution Process for Infractions Cases: An Overview

10 July 2020

Interested in the law governing disputes in the US college sports structure? Jeff Benz, who is also chair of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's (NCAA) Infractions Referral Committee, joined by two important co authors, has penned the leading article now on the new NCAA process for resolving infractions disputes, which can be found on LawInSport's website here.

How to conduct effective sports dispute resolution & advocacy online

15 June 2020

Jeffrey Benz and Catherine Pitre of Sport Resolutions write for LawInSport on successful advocacy online in sports disputes. Click here to read the article.

Early mediation in sports disputes equals efficient outcomes

8 June 2020

When we emerge from the current situation, the world of sports will be changed. And disputes are undoubtedly going to increase, particularly disputes that may have been put on hold while the world has been paused. Obtaining the assistance of a trained and neutral third party (a mediator) is often the most efficient method to resolve these disputes quickly and effectively so that industry participants can get back to business.

What the coronavirus means for arbitration and mediation

4 March 2020

Jeff Benz' article on the likely effect of the COVID-19 virus on arbitrating and mediating commercial claims was published in the leading US legal publication online on Law360.com.

Disputes arising out of or relating to the 2014 Olympic Winter Games in Sochi Part 1

31 July 2014

Disputes arising out of or relating to the 2014 Olympic Winter Games in Sochi on Law and Sport.

Disputes arising out of or relating to the 2014 Olympic Winter Games in Sochi Part 2

31 July 2014

Disputes arising out of or relating to the 2014 Olympic Winter Games in Sochi on Law and Sport.

Book Review of Sport: Law and Practice (Third Edition 2014).

16 June 2014

Book Review of Sport: Law and Practice (Third Edition 2014).

British Hospitality - When Is a Bed a Bribe? The U.K. Bribery Act and Its Implications for Event Organisers, Sponsors, and Related Persons

Will the Real CIETAC Please Step Forward

17 December 2013

Sidebar: Mediation in Italy

16 October 2013

Does Winning in Sports Mean Losing in Dispute Resolution?

21 April 2012

Take Control of Your Arbitration Costs

22 January 2012