

Marie-Claire O'Kane

Call: 2013

+442078222000 m.o'kane@4newsquare.com

Clerk: Lizzy Stewart

l.stewart@4newsquare.com

+442078222032 +447912405153

Marie-Claire O'Kane practises in the areas of commercial law, international arbitration, professional liability, property litigation, construction, insurance and public law.

Prior to coming to the Bar, Marie-Claire studied law at Harvard Law School, Oxford University, University of Paris II Pantheon-Assas and Trinity College Dublin. She has taught law as a visiting tutor at the London School of Economics and King's College London and has acted as an Assistant Examiner in tort law at the University of London.

Marie-Claire is an Editor of the Eighth Edition of Jackson & Powell on Professional Liability. She edits the chapter on the liability of Art Professionals, with Roger Stewart QC.

Further detail on Marie-Claire's expertise is set out below.

Privacy Policy

Click here for a Privacy Policy for Marie-Claire O'Kane.

Areas of Expertise

Insurance

Recent instructions include:

- Assisting drafting a written opinion on English reinsurance law for use in Dutch proceedings.
- Advising a UK based company on the regulatory impact of the Insurance Distribution Directive.
- Advising a construction professional on coverage issues under an NHBC Buildmark Policy.

Qualifications & Memberships

LLB (Ling. Franc.), Trinity College Dublin (First Class Honours); BCL, University of Oxford (Distinction); LLM, Harvard Law School; BPTC.

Marie-Claire is a member of NAWIC, YIAG, TECBAR and PNBA.

Insights

Professional negligence round up: what were the key areas of development in 2017 and what are the battlegrounds for the future?

4 January 2018

Article written by Helen Evans, Thomas Ogden and Marie-Claire O'Kane discussing the key areas of development in 2017 for professional negligence and the battlegrounds for the future.

Eighth Edition of Jackson and Powell on Professional Liability - Editor