Faye read Modern and Medieval Languages as an undergraduate at Christ's College, University of Cambridge and graduated with First Class Honours, winning a Levy-Plumb Prize. During her time at Cambridge, Faye's work was chosen to be published in a book on film exhibition in Italy (Film Exhibition: The Italian Context (Legenda, Summer 2024)). After graduating, Faye undertook a Postgraduate Diploma in Law at City, University of London where she graduated with a Distinction. She was awarded a Lord Denning Scholarship from Lincoln's Inn to study for the bar course, which she completed at the Inns of Court College of Advocacy. Faye's performances in mooting competitions have seen her advocate at The Court of Justice of the European Union in Luxembourg and The Supreme Court in London. She speaks fluent English and French and conversational Italian and German. Her interests outside the law include film and theatre.
