Tim graduated with an LLB and BA (First Class Honours) from the University of Otago. He also holds an LLM (Distinction) from the University of Pennsylvania Law School, an MPhil in Law (Distinction) from Balliol College, University of Oxford, and is completing a PhD in Law from Fitzwilliam College, University of Cambridge.

Prior to pupillage, Tim practised at Baker McKenzie in England and New York and Kensington Swan (now Dentons) in New Zealand. He gained broad experience in commercial litigation and arbitration, public law, and financial crime investigations. He is admitted to practise in all three jurisdictions. Tim is particularly interested in multi-jurisdictional disputes and related public and private international law issues.

In his spare time, Tim enjoys running, writing, and spending time with his family.
